Christian Youth in Action®

On August 17, our seven Christian Youth in Action (CYIA) summer missionaries completed their summer ministry. We're pleased to report that all of them survived the hot weather and had an excellent summer of ministry.

As referenced by the pictures above, you can see that they spent the majority of their time teaching 5-Day Cubs, Vacation Bible Schools, and Good News Camp. They were also able to do some face painting and open air distribution at fairs.

MEMORIES

“It was an experience I’d never had before. God showed me that these kids needed love.”

“It was fun having a variety of ages. The kids seemed to enjoy themselves.”

“I liked getting to know and talk to the kids one on one because of having a smaller group.”

Our veteran missionaries did a demonstration lesson during the statewide training.

Good News Camp 2013

Although camp is over for the summer, the work at camp never ends. There are projects that need to be done to prepare for next year.

Some have chosen a camp project to earn Eagle Scout, others for their senior projects, still others for a church or Sunday School project. If you know someone or a group who would like to help, please contact us.

We'd like to redo our kitchen so we're looking for kitchen cabinets, countertops and a sink. Let us know if you have any to donate.
